

points upon which he had touched most lightly in the conversation were emphasized most strongly in the published account.

When the Admiral came from the President's room his face was wreathed in smiles and there was no room for doubt that the conference had ended satisfactorily. The Admiral was wary, however, of being quoted again, and declined to comment on his visit.

Spoke Confidentially.

The Admiral was seen at his home last evening. Asked the result of his conference with the President, he said that for obvious reasons he could not discuss it. He did say, however, that he believed he was speaking confidentially to the newspaper man who wrote the interview for the Newark paper. He did not deny the remarks attributed to him, beyond saying that certain ones were unduly emphasized.

The impression gained from a discussion with Admiral Dewey was that he was not called to the White House for the purpose of receiving a commission, but to talk over the matter in anticipation of complaint from Germany. It is said that the President desired to be prepared for any protest that might come from Berlin.

President Cannot Censure.

As a matter of fact the President is not in position to censure. The position of Admiral of the Navy is one created by Congress for Dewey, and he will hold the position for life or until he resigns. There is no manner in which he could be court-martialed inasmuch as this would require a court of at least two officers of equal rank. There are no officers of the navy eligible to sit in such a court. Congress is the only body with power to act in the event of charges against the Admiral of the Navy.

DOMINICAN REBELS Suing for Peace

Admiral Coghlan, Cables Insurrection at an End.

News was received at the Navy Department yesterday from Rear Admiral Coghlan, commanding the Caribbean Squadron, which was sent to protect American interests in Honduras, that Commander Diehl of the Marietta had landed his marine guard at Puerto Cortez after the town had been taken by the revolutionists, but as no disorder ensued had withdrawn.

Admiral Coghlan and the American vice consul at Puerto Cortez agree that there is no danger to Americans or their interests. Arrangements have been made to send the members of President Arias' family out of the country. Admiral Coghlan's message, which is dated Puerto Cortez, March 25, and Guatemala City, March 26, is as follows:

"Returned here (Puerto Cortez) yesterday. Found Celta and other small ports in hands of revolutionists who practically control ports. Truxillo attacked by them 22d. Sent Panther there to protect interests. Have heard nothing from her yet.

"Puerto Cortez taken by revolutionists 22d, in my absence eastward. Upon return, 24th, Diehl had situation in hand. Landed his guard for protection and order by requests. No disorder and guard withdrawn.

"Finding American mail steamer due upon my arrival, sent guard to her from Olympia before steamer entered port. Also placed guard in dock. Number political refugees on Brutus.

"Think there is no danger to Americans or their interests. Our vice consul there agrees in this opinion. Everything quiet here, but no responsible local government organized as yet. Effect squadron excellent all along coast.

"All outside reports from this coast greatly exaggerated, and though conditions somewhat unsettled, change of authority accomplished with minimum. Including members family. President Arias' arrangements being made to send them out the country.

"San Pedro, via railroad, turned over peacefully revolutionists, 24th. Sent Diehl there, investigate conditions and necessity for guard demanded by Americans.

"He said revolutionists under well organized, equipped in good order and under able and intelligent leaders. (No) disorder. * * * Telegraphic communication on coast with San Pedro interrupted."

The State Department received the following telegram yesterday from W. F. Powell, United States minister at Port au Prince, Haiti:

"Dominican government troops now surround San Domingo City. Revolutionary forces are demoralized. Most other points in the country appear to be quiet. Figueroa, former president, trying to arrange terms with President Vasquez."

This indicates the end of the insurrection which was led by General W. G. Gil, a former president, who was until recently Dominican consul general in New York. Beyond the capture of the capital in the absence of President Vasquez, he made no advance toward success.

ARTHUR DUFFEY EQUALS HIS PAST PERFORMANCE

Does 35 Yards in Four Seconds at Hopkins Indoor Meet.

(Special to The Washington Times.)
BALTIMORE, March 28.—The Johns Hopkins University athletic meet here tonight was the most successful in the history of Baltimore indoor games. The Fifth Regiment Armory was crowded with women and their escorts. All the Eastern colleges were represented. The events were run off with remarkable smoothness and celerity, and there was not a protest.

A. F. Duffey, of Georgetown University, champion hundred-yard runner of the world, was the star attraction. He nobly fulfilled expectations by equalling the world's indoor record of 4 seconds for the 35-yard dash, on a track that was slow, because of its sudden stop.

The run was made as an exhibition. Duffey was paced by Dougherty, of Georgetown, and Hill, of the Baltimore City College.

Reilly, of Georgetown, was second in the 35-yard handicap, the first place going to a man who had 5 feet start on him. Reilly's greatest work was done in the 440-yard run, when as scratch man he finished third after one of the greatest sustained bursts of speed ever seen in this city.

The Emerson Institute relay team beat that from Marston's University School after an exciting struggle. Georgetown Prep was defeated rather easily by Penn Charter School in a relay race. Georgetown University Law School defeated the Washington Young Men's Christian Association team in the closest relay match of the evening.

Y. M. C. A. led the first half mile, when a great recovery by Edmonston and Etchison enabled the school to win by a nose.

M. J. Thompson, graduate manager of athletics at Georgetown, was referee and gave general satisfaction.

WRESTLING AT TENLEYTOWN.

St. Alban's Athletic Club of Tenleytown entertained its friends with a good exhibition of wrestling on Friday night.

The contestants were Walter Gallagher and Harry Dwyer, of the Potomac Athletic Club, vs. Gaines Easley and Edgar Willett, of St. Alban's, and were very evenly matched. Gallagher winning from Easley, but Dwyer and Willett wrestling to a tie. St. Alban's Club is organizing a baseball nine and expects to do some good work during the coming season.

BARS RACE ISSUE FROM MISSISSIPPI CAMPAIGN

NEW ORLEANS, March 28.—The Hon. A. P. Fox, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Mississippi, is receiving the support of the conservative wing of the Democracy. In his speech at Meridian he denounced the race issue, which had been forced into the campaign, as a false one. The proposition to abolish the education of the negro was, he said an assault on the constitution of the State.

Mr. Fox concluded his address with a strong appeal to the people of Mississippi to stop such false issues, and devote their time and energy to the industrial development of the State.

MACEDONIAN INSURGENTS THREATEN SULTAN ABDUL

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 28.—The Macedonian insurgents have cut the telegraph wires near Demirhisar, north of Serres. A note addressed to the Sultan was found fastened to a wire, in which the revolutionary committees declare that unless the Austro-Russian reforms are interpreted in their broadest sense, and the dispatch of troops immediately suspended, they will deliver the whole of Macedonia to blood and fire.

GREAT WORK DONE FOR LITTLE MONEY

Expenses of Coal Strike Commission Less Than Appropriation.

Statistical experts who know the cost of collecting data for the use of Government departments or for the diffusion of commercial information among the masses unite in saying that the expense incurred by the anthracite coal strike commission was less than that of any previous organization of its kind. In proportion to the work accomplished and the time expended in doing the work. Only the approximate amount of money spent by the commission is now known, but Assistant Recorder Moseley is engaged in preparing a statement showing the exact figures. This will be submitted to the President as soon as it can be completed, and by the latter forwarded to Congress next December.

Regarding this report Mr. Moseley said yesterday:

"Congress appropriated $50,000 for the use of the commission, but the total amount expended will fall more than $10,000 short of that figure. The actual cost of the entire investigation will hardly be more than $38,000, according to our present calculations. According to the views of prominent statisticians, in which the members of the commission concur, no such important results have been attained heretofore at such small expense, nor has any undertaking ever been conducted along more businesslike and economical lines."

Of the total expended a large part goes for salaries. Three out of the seven members of the commission draw salaries of $4,000 each, besides their per diem of $15. The other four members and the two assistant recorders drew $15 per day each. Two stenographers received $6 per day. The board was appointed on October 24, and remained in existence until March 23, so that, approximately, the per diems for members and employees amounted to $18,000.

The special train chartered for the physical inspection of the territory was paid out of the per diem allowance. The printing bills amounted to about $3,000, and the work of the stenographers, who took the testimony of the 565 witnesses, cost the commission only 10 cents per folio of eight copies, aggregating about $2,000. The stenographers did this work so cheaply because they were given the privilege of furnishing outsiders with copies of the testimony, a privilege out of which they made something like $20,000, since there were so many parties in interest, most of whom were glad to obtain the copies in this way. There were some other expenses involved in the hearings, such as janitor service, fees for the clerks, who swore the witnesses, etc.

NUMBERING HOUSES ON KENESAW AVENUE

The Mount Pleasant Citizens' Association will be informed of the plan devised for the numbering of houses on Kenesaw Avenue between Fifteenth and Sixteenth Streets northwest. At present some confusion exists, and the matter was the subject of complaint recently by the association.

The plan is to split the numbers between 1500 and 1600 at the alley which now crosses Kenesaw Avenue. There is too long to admit of giving to every six lots in 100 feet a number in the 1500 series.

The association suggested that the members be arranged with reference to School Street, which will probably be cut through to Kenesaw Avenue in the near future, corresponding quite closely with Fifteenth Street.

Col. John Biddle, the Engineer Commissioner, objected to this plan, and forwarded to his colleagues a motion making the alley the basis of the new numbers.

DECISION AWAITED ON REVOKING PERMIT

Commissioners to Announce Action on Automobile Stable Tomorrow.

It was announced yesterday that the District Commissioners would give their decision next Monday on the question of revoking the permit for the automobile stable at the corner of Eighteenth Street and Rhode Island Avenue. The matter was discussed at a public hearing on Friday, and was referred to the Corporation Counsel for an opinion.

Captain Allison Nailor called upon the Commissioners yesterday, and informed them the building operations were going forward, and urged the Board to give its decision at once so the neighborhood would know what to depend upon. It was thought better to allow the Corporation Counsel until Monday to report upon the question, as he wished to give the subject some study and thought.
